Foodservice in the modern world

Today's world has seen a shift in the way meals are prepared and served. Social distancing, prepackaged meals, and no-contact service has become an important factor in the health and safety of students and consumers. Piper's Mobile Food Solutions offer everything you need from portable meal carts, to protective point-of-sale counters, to sinks and sanitation stations. We even offer mobile condiment carts for all of your extras. All of the equipment can be customized to your needs, and is easily portable with heavy-duty casters and available push handles. Contact your local Piper representative to learn more about our extensive catalog of Mobile Foodservice Equipment.
