Tamale Bar

In the modern world of online grocery shopping, stores are looking for unique ways to capture their customer's attention and sell more product. Customized kiosks have become a very popular way to attract them. Consider these two examples: our Mobile Guacamole Station and Tamale Bar. Each was designed with a specific purpose and product in mind. The Guac station includes dual cold pans, a poly-cutting board work surface, and under-counter storage with adjustable shelves. The Tamale bar was built for dual-sided self-service. It includes 3 steam pans, a fully-enclosed guard with sliding glass doors and overhead lighting, and a drop-down end shelf to hold serving containers. Both units are completely mobile and can easily be relocated to another area for greater visibility and convenience.

A custom bar can be the perfect addition to your store. Learn more about them and other offerings at www.piperproducts.com. Discover what makes Piper the Food-Focused Equipment Company.
